Subject: Flint Water Issue

Hi Jim:

Alan Wasserman and I had dinner this past weekend and he and I were discussing the current drinking water situation in Flint and the need for a manageable solution that does not involve the need for a Detroit water supply; Alan suggested that I contact you. I understand that politically it would not look good to be working with Pall on this matter, however I have a business that is my own, and we design solutions specific to the clients' needs.

After many years of working with members of the agency, I have tremendous respect for your work. My partner and I would love the chance to speak with you and explore the potential opportunity of working together on this matter.

Regards.
