I've actually heard from several of you and have reflected requested changes on the web page. The copy for the wrap around now reads as follows:

LEAD AND COPPER RULE, CORROSION CONTROL

AWWA has resources available to help members address customer concerns and to provide guidance in assessing water quality in order to maintain public health and safety. AWWA resources as well as other resources to help you address questions or concerns that may arise in your community are available on the Section's website.

Go to <http://www.mi-water.org/?page=WhatsNews> to learn more.

Any final comments/thoughts on the wrap around text? We can continue to tweak the page but I'd like to get the wrap around into production.

Importance: High

Good afternoon all.

The task force has fleshed out the resources page a bit more and recommends using a slight modification to the page's intro as the piece for Water Works News. See below for copy for WWN and the link to the webpage.

LEAD AND COPPER RULE, CORROSION CONTROL

AWWA has resources available to help members address customer concerns and to provide guidance in assessing water quality in order to maintain public health and safety. Resources to help you address issues that may arise in your community are available on the Section's website.

Go to <http://www.mi-water.org/?page=WhatsNews> to learn more.

Please let me know your thoughts on the copy for WWN ASAP so that we can keep production on WWN moving.

Thanks much!
