great. we have about 10,000 of our lead nutrition packets that they can take with them for each clinic.

they key is buying lunch for the practices - then you will have an audience.

If it would be of any help, we could have a lead case manager attend as well to put a name and contact information in physicians hands. This morning I asked the case managers to contact the largest pediatric practices and see about meeting with them regarding case management services, sources for filters, nutrition and answer any general questions they might have.

Good morning ,

I will relay, with your permission of course, this email to our Medical Services Administration, with whom I have had the same discussions. Rest assured that I saw a multi-point plan from this health plan about how to address the issues in their patient population, and these community engagement pieces are just one part.

One issue all are trying to capture is the urgency under which the enhanced testing needs to be conducted, so this is one of a number of strategies the health plans are utilizing.

Another part is of utmost concern, that I know is also in multiple health plans' strategic approaches, is that of provider engagement. Despite the news and the blast faxes and the Health Alerts and the Provider Letters and the Toolkits, we continue to hear from citizens, the Governor's Task Force and EBL case investigators and case managers, that providers are not asking about lead exposure to Flint water since April 2014, nor asking about testing/screening, or whether families have filters. I tried to set up a provider forum in Nov-Dec to little or no interest, but am now working to get one rolling regardless, in partnership with health plans, by end of this month.

It would really be helpful if you could be there to speak about this very issue and give the perspective of a local physician responding to the crisis, and a leader of best practices. We will webinar it and archive it as well (I am wondering if I can make it CME-able as well), and Dr. Reynolds, it would be great to have you involved as well---

Thanks for your reply, Eden. Yes, I have had discussions with Matt Davis about this as well and it was my understanding that it was recommended to expand screening, but still to push kids to their medical homes as you said. If we all agree to drive kids to their medical homes first, the primacy of the medical home, why is that not being done first?

What are the Medicaid HMOs doing to push kids to their medical homes? How are they incentivizing visits, providing case management, partnering with practices, enhanced transportation, etc? This is what needs to happen - not only will all of this improve lead screening rates, but also immun rates and all other HEDIS measure that HMOs (and providers) care about.

Hi Mona,

The Governor's Task Force has made a number of preliminary recommendations to MDHHS last month, and a major one is to maximize blood lead screening. The primary care home is best, all agree, and health plans are identifying any children that have not been tested. Current thoughts are that there could be thousands. Health plans will be closely monitoring the provider follow up as well post initial screens. And, while it does not pick up potential lead exposure prior to Oct 1, water is still a potential source if public health measures are not being used, or used appropriately. Also there is a need to establish the prevalence of EBL in this impacted community-

I have had long discussions with Matt Davis about this, and Larry is aware as well. I can discuss further if needed. But all, including Medicaid, agree with the primacy of the patient primary care home.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
GENESEE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS DECLARE EMERGENCY

Flint, MI -- January 4, 2016 – During their first board meeting of the year, Monday morning, Genesee County Commissioners declared a state of emergency in Genesee County. The move a sign that county leaders support Flint Mayor Dr. Karen Weaver and her efforts to get resources and relief to the residents suffering from the ongoing water situation in the city.

Mayor Weaver declared a state of emergency in Flint last month to raise awareness about the severity of the problems surrounding the water situation that continues to effect residents. The problems a result of the man-made disaster caused by the city switching to the Flint River as a water source in 2014.

Following the board's vote today, Genesee County Commission Chairperson, Jaime Curtis said, "This is a state, man-made disaster and we're going to ask the state to fix their disaster. Curtis also said, "Genesee County is the fifth largest county in Michigan and we will not be ignored."

Mayor Weaver hopes the county's show of support will convince the Governor to provide the City of Flint with financial support to help leaders address immediate infrastructure needs. Those needs include more than $45 million to replace every identified lead pipe in the city, reimbursement of the $2 million spent to switch back to the Detroit Water Sewerage Department, $6 million to help with the transfer to the Karegnondi pipeline and additional resources to support the city's Heath Initiative to assist affected adults and children in Flint who have consumed water contaminated with lead.

In an interview with media after the board's emergency declaration Mayor Weaver said, "It's a victory and a step in the right direction." The mayor plans to meet with Governor Snyder in Lansing Thursday of this week to discuss the state's response and next steps.

From Jamie Gaskin

Over the past 48 hours some additional support has started to surface given the National and regional media coverage. These are all developing streams of possible support and generally reflect organizations and business that got connected several months ago during our initial response. These are developing but I wanted to loop in all of you as this develops and also share some basic information:

1. MSP has again surfaced another source of bulk water that is Federal surplus. This water is free as long as we pay for shipping. I have looped in Bill Kerr at the foodbank as his team is really managing the logistics and understands the local demand and the ability of the local distribution system to handle storage etc.. These shipments come at the cost of shipping. This is about ½ the cost of buying the water and shipping ranges from between $1000-$2,000 per semi.
2. PUR – They have reached out to me again (Previously donated 2,000 faucet mount systems). I have directed them to consider donation of additional replacement filters and a financial donation. The financial donation would support shipping costs of more bottled water as well as possible prevention work.
3. ZeroWater – I am again working through some ideas with their CEO. He is very interested in the schools. I am not sure how this will develop.

*As we have shared in the past the distribution system currently has supplies of filter mount systems (PUR & Britta), replacement filters (PUR & Britta), and 8 cup pitchers (ZeroWater). If we get to levels below 500 available units for any system it is my understanding that this will serve as a trigger for us to resource more.

I also want to share that I have about $15,000 left of the more than $275k donated. As I get closer to expending all the funds the UW will continue to evaluate our own internal investment and make some adjustments. Please direct any possible financial investors to support the water fund either by calling me directly or making even small donations on our website. I will also be working with Isaiah Oliver at the Community Foundation around the MI Health Endowment Funds. Both the United Way and the Community Foundation are committed to working together and trying to maintain maximum flexibility as the situation develops.

I will follow-up though the normal Health Department updates moving forward but I just felt it necessary to try to bring everyone up to speed on developing work. If you have any questions for me please let me know. I will be available all through the Holiday period via cell phone and I will only be out of town from Christmas eve through the following Saturday. Please do not hesitate to call me for any reason.
