Yan provided preliminary data for most of the tables, but the INT between testing date and Report date was not very clean for Flint. The mean was way too high and there were quite a few 'outliers'---results from 2012 and 2013 reported October 30, 2015.

We haven't looked further into this, because we need to get the report done.

We will use the specimen date and will be a dynamic report.

As soon as I have preliminary data from Yan I will forward to you.
