I don't know if you have had any contact with this person and I am unsure that a response is necessary, as it was forwarded as an FYI.

It is difficult to determine what is being requested, but it looks like a customer of Flint asked EPA for drinking water quality and when EPA told her to contact her water system, she tried to get the information from the state but contacted WRD. It also sounds like she questions relying upon the local supplier to report monitoring results.

You could contact her to see if we can be of assistance or send her a message indicating that we (you) are the source of drinking water information if she doesn't want to get it from the city.

Hello,

It is unfortunate that you don't track local drinking water information. So in essence your tracking efforts are limited to the auspices of NRCS Water Division only for the conservation of farming and other natural (non-human) resources. What if, by chance, the local water source is not being accurate in their reporting of safe drinking water and source supply?

Thank you,
 Sheila

The Safe Drinking Water Hotline has responded to your question(s).

Hello,

Thank you for contacting the Safe Drinking Water Hotline. You had some concerns regarding your local water quality. Please review the information included below:

The Safe Drinking Water Hotline does not track local drinking water information. The best source of specific information about your drinking water is your water supplier. Water suppliers that serve the same people year-round are required to send their customers an annual water quality report called a Consumer Confidence Report (CCR). The CCR describes any contaminants that have been detected in your drinking water, how these detection levels compare to health-based national drinking water standards, and the source of your drinking water. To obtain a copy of your CCR, you may search online at <http://cfpub.epa.gov/safewater/ccr/index.cfm>. If your water system's report is not online, you should contact your local water provider to obtain
