FYI. Not sure if you would have heard this. It was on yesterday afternoon and this morning.

While they didn't go into detail to provide further explanation, it sounds a little weird to hear them say Flint can't afford to connect to DWSD, but then counter with the City is spending millions to improve its treatment.

Mike,

After doing a little digging, Phase 1 of the transmission main replacement project is out to bid and will close on May 14. The contractor will have 6 months to finish once awarded the contract.

The City has also budgeted $2.5 million for each of FY16, FY17, and FY18 for the other 3 phases of the project.

We can keep an eye on it for now until the bid closing
