Flint is hosting a public meeting tonight to talk about their drinking water situation.
Water Resources is hosting a public meeting in Lansing today to take comments on proposed changes to the general CAFD permit.
New fracturing rules are moving through the process.
Formal notice from the feds last week that all of Michigan is in attainment for PM 2.5

Some other stuff I'm not coming up with immediately ...

And I'm heading to Canada tomorrow for my annual perch fishing extravaganza.
