

developing streams of possible support and generally reflect organizations and business that got connected several months ago during our initial response. These are developing but I wanted to loop in all of you as this develops and also share some basic information:

1. MSP has again surfaced another source of bulk water that is Federal surplus. This water is free as long as we pay for shipping. I have looped in Bill Kerr at the foodbank as his team is really managing the logistics and understands the local demand and the ability of the local distribution system to handle storage etc.. These shipments come at the cost of shipping. This is about ½ the cost of buying the water and shipping ranges from between $1000-$2,000 per semi.
2. PUR – They have reached out to me again (Previously donated 2,000 faucet mount systems). I have directed them to consider donation of additional replacement filters and a financial donation. The financial donation would support shipping costs of more bottled water as well as possible prevention work.
3. ZeroWater – I am again working through some ideas with their CEO. He is very interested in the schools. I am not sure how this will develop.

*As we have shared in the past the distribution system currently has supplies of filter mount systems (PUR & Britta), replacement filters (PUR & Britta), and 8 cup pitchers (ZeroWater). If we get to levels below 500 available units for any system it is my understanding that this will serve as a trigger for us to resource more.

I also want to share that I have about $15,000 left of the more than $275k donated. As I get closer to expending all the funds the UW will continue to evaluate our own internal investment and make some adjustments. Please direct any possible financial investors to support the water fund either by calling me directly or making even small donations on our website. I will also be working with Isaiah Oliver at the Community Foundation around the MI Health Endowment Funds. Both the United Way and the Community Foundation are committed to working together and trying to maintain maximum flexibility as the situation develops.

I will follow-up though the normal Health Department updates moving forward but I just felt it necessary to try to bring everyone up to speed on developing work. If you have any questions for me please let me know. I will be available all through the Holiday period via cell phone and I will only be out of town from Christmas eve through the following Saturday. Please do not hesitate to call me for any reason.
